more notebooks and journals.

One of our greatest gifts is creativity. We express ourselves freely through handiwork.

This 100-page journal invites you to celebrate arts and crafts through words, sketches, clippings and photos. A wide range of crafts are available to us through stores, catalogues, websites and word of mouth from friends. Fill this journal with ideas and plans.

Even if we never actually do many of the crafts, it's fun to think and write about them. Our hands are never idle, and we have memories of ourselves and friends tackling exciting new projects.

Pages in this journal provides craft-related words as headings on every other page to inspire you to tell your experiences.
